

HOW HE LEFT HAWAII.

Admiral Walker's Report to Secretary Herbert on the Situation.

A United States Warship Should Be Stationed in Honolulu.

British Influences in Opposition to American Interests There.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 18.—In answer to a resolution Secretary Herbert today sent to the Senate the correspondence between the Navy Department and Admiral Walker, relative to his mission to Hawaii last summer.

The Admiral, previous to his departure, received explicit instructions from the Secretary.

Neutrality Strictly Ordered.

This communication called for the utmost neutrality towards the people and Government of Hawaii under instructions to be received at San Francisco. Protection of lives and property of American citizens was to be extended, but no support, moral or physical, was to be given to either party engaged in any attempt to restore the Queen or establish a permanent government. His instructions closed with this injunction: "If you shall observe at any time any effort or move in the political affairs of the Hawaiian Islands, or if you shall perceive any circumstance pointing to such interference, you will promptly report the same to this Department."

H. A. HERBERT,
Secretary of the Navy.

Found Tranquillity at Honolulu.

Admiral Walker's first report was dated at Honolulu April 23, and was a formal announcement that he had assumed command. Three days later he described the political situation, saying that the Provisional Government seemed firmly established. The only cause for uneasiness, he wrote, was in the uncertainty of the natives as to the ultimate restoration of the Queen, and the possible disaffection of the Japanese. The leaders stimulated apprehension by telling the people that they would be punished if the Queen were restored, as they were informed she would be, by the United States. Admiral Walker recommended a formal assurance of non-interference and disapproval of interference by other nations from the United States.

FOR LOST LOVE, $50,000

That is What Miss Lynch Wants from Swell Dr. H. W. Mitchell. Suit for $50,000 has been brought in the Superior Court by Miss Mary F. Lynch against Dr. H. W. Mitchell, of 77 Madison avenue, for breach of promise.

Miss Lynch is a saleswoman, and claims that Dr. Mitchell first met her in 1887; that he represented himself to be a widower, said he was lonely, and wanted a refined woman's companionship, and asked her to go driving with him.

She says that she at first refused all his invitations, but afterwards accepted, and was ruined by him. An operation was performed, she claims, and the intimacy went on until a few months ago, and in the mean time she had a number of chances to marry other men.

Dr. Mitchell is a very well-known physician, and has a large office at 77 Madison avenue.

He graduated in 1866 from the P. and R. College, and is now President of the Medical-Legal Society and a member of several other medical societies.

Dr. Mitchell denies the whole story and calls it an outrageous attempt at blackmail on the part of Miss Lynch. He says he only met Miss Lynch when she was accompanied by his wife, and that Mrs. Mitchell took her to the girl, sending her old clothes from time to time.

F. M. Littlefield, attorney for the defense, applied to Judge Dugan yesterday for an order to force Miss Lynch to file a minute bill of particulars of her claim.

SEEKING LOST LETITIA.
Her Mother Seeks the Passenger. Lists on Outgoing Steamers.

Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson, of 313 West Thirty-fourth street, whose daughter Letitia ran away two weeks ago, visited the offices of the Transatlantic Steamship Company to-day to learn if she had taken passage for Southampton. Letitia was first believed to have gone away with the family of Dr. Conyers Harrison, on the yacht Mohican.

Mrs. Mary Harrison, the grandmother of the girl, said that she believed if her daughter did not go with the Harrises she will follow them within a day or two.

The watch was then returned to Brown, and the prisoners were discharged by Justice McCall.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 18.—The jury returned in the famous Dr. Fraker insurance case a verdict in favor of the relatives of Fraker, who sued five companies which held policies aggregating $4,000 on the doctor's life when he was drowned in the Steamer Sprague, Nov. 19, 1893. The plaintiffs were granted judgments for the full amount.

Our Position Well Understood.
The position of the United States as defined in the Senate resolution is clearly understood by nations and foreigners. The United States is not a party to the Hawaiian question, and is not on hand to perform the duties of our virtual protectorate, no reproach can attach to another power which in the event of disturbance, takes our place.

The British sentiment in the Pacific was expressed by the British Minister, Mr. Balfour, who said, "The United States have left the Philippines at Honolulu. He means that another ship will be there at the earliest practicable moment."

OKLAHOMA GIRL ELOPED.

Was Married to "Rattlesnake Bill" Before Her Father Arrived.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Dec. 18.—A bit of prairie romance caused excitement in the Cheyenne and Arapahoe country to-day when Clara Melville, a daughter of a wealthy cattleman, eloped with William Coleman, known throughout Oklahoma as "Rattlesnake Bill." The pair took two of Melville's horses and struck the trail for Watonga, the county seat. The elopement was reported to the girl's father, who started his outfit and started in pursuit.

The truant lovers' horses proved the swiftest, and theirate parent arrived at Watonga just as they were married. Melville forgave the pair and announced a grand supper at the "Two Bar" ranch Christmas Eve.

CONTESTING HIS MILLIONS.
Fight Over the Estate of Junius H. Alexander.

The contest over the fortune left by the late Junius H. Alexander was continued to-day before Justice Barrett in the Supreme Court of this State.

In January, 1888, leaving an estate of about a million and a half dollars, he was found, the present, in the hands of children of Mr. Alexander's first wife and his widow and her children.

In 1880 Mr. Alexander and his wife separated. He gave her an income of $5,000 a year, in lieu of dower, and stipulated that she should have no further claim on her husband's estate.

Mrs. Alexander, despite the separation, claims her part of the estate.

EUGENE KELLY, SR., DEAD.

The Aged Millionaire Banker Passed Away This Morning.

Eugene Kelly, Sr., the millionaire banker, died at his home, 23 West Fifty-first street, at 9:30 o'clock this morning. He was unconscious to the last.

At the bedside of their dying father were Eugene Jr., Robert H. Thomas Hughes and Ed. Kelly and Mrs. Neales, and their mother, Mrs. Kelly.

He was taken seriously ill Dec. 4, after a stroke of paralysis. He seemed to rally, however, and his physicians were under the impression that he would recover, and a trip South was arranged for him as soon as he became well enough to leave his bed. He never rallied, but died after having been unconscious for some hours.

Mr. Kelly was born in Trelick, County Tyrone, Ireland, in 1838, and at the age of twenty came to this country with $1 in his pocket. His first position was that of clerk in Dannelly Bros. dry-goods store. He next tried gold mining in 1859, and later started the San Francisco banking house of Donohue, Kelly & Hall.

During the war he moved his business to New York, and lost considerable sums of money in the gold market. In spite of a great rate, until when he retired from active business a few years ago he was reputed to be worth between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000.

Mr. Kelly was an ardent Home Rule man, and his pocketbook was always open to any fund intended for the benefit of that Irish movement.

DR. M'GLYNN'S CHRISTMAS.
He May Be Permitted to Resume His Priestly Functions.

According to the friends of Rev. Dr. McGlynn, there is every prospect of a complete reconciliation between the ex-pastor of St. Stephen's Church and the Archbishop of New York. It is believed that the former will be given permission to celebrate mass publicly in this city, preach sermons, and in every way enter upon his duties, as a priest.

Some of his more sanguine friends predict that while he may never be restored to St. Stephen's parish, he will be put in charge of another congregation. Dr. McGlynn has asked the Archbishop to allow him to say mass here, and the latter, it is understood, has written a letter to that effect.

It was on a Christmas morning that Dr. McGlynn celebrated his first mass after years of excommunication. It is believed he will say a public mass here on Christmas morning.

Is She Too Poetic for Him?
Mrs. Juliet C. Isham, whose husband, a Brooklyn millionaire, has sued for divorce, and named Dr. Abbott, a dentist, as co-respondent, denies all intimacy with Dr. Abbott, and says her husband invited him to the home, and hints that Mr. Isham is plotting to free himself of her in order to marry a trained nurse, whose previous name she offers him greater attractions than does Mrs. Isham's more poetical temperament.
